New York Socialists Fired From State Assembly

BIG MAJORITY OF VOTES CAST FOR EXPULSION

Decision Reached After All Night Session of Assembly.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Albany, N. Y., April 1.—Five socialists, Lewis Waldman, August Claessens, Charles Solomon, Samuel A. De Witt and Samuel Orr, all of New York City, the entire delegation of their party in the New York assembly were expelled from the legislature today.

The majorities in favor of unseating the men, suspended on the opening day of the legislative session on charges of disloyalty, were substantial.

Voting came after 24 hours of oratory, parliamentary wrangles and filibustering. Owing to the fact that the men were expelled after midnight on March 31 there can be no special elections to fill their seats in the assembly unless an extraordinary session of the legislature is to be convened.

Theodore Roosevelt, republican, voted against expulsion, having argued with the assembly during the night that it had no right to exclude the party.

Establishes Precedent
By its action the assembly established a precedent altogether unique in the legislative history in the United States as never before has an entire party delegation been ejected from any legislative body.

Party lines disappeared in the voting. The democratic minority, which was supposed to be pretty well united in favor of reseatment of the socialists, polled a majority of one vote in favor of expelling Waldman, Claessens and Solomon, the democratic vote on these men being 18 for unseating and 17 for restoring them to their former legislative status.

Twenty-one democrats voted to reseat DeWitt and Orr, while 14 favored their expulsion. The republicans by a division of 98 to 11, voted to unseat Waldman, Claessens and Solomon, and on the DeWitt-Orr votes they stood 89 to 20.

When the assembly adjourned after the seats of all five socialists had been declared vacant, it had been in continuous session 23 hours and 40 minutes.

Lacked Expected Thrills
The final chapter lacked the thrills that many of the spectators had expected. Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet closed the debate at 9:36 a. m. and within two minutes the calling of the roll had been begun in the case of Louis Waldman.

There was a brief outburst of applause when the clerk announced the vote on Waldman, followed by another mild demonstration when Speaker Sweet announced:

"The resolution having been duly passed I declare the seat occupied by Louis Waldman vacant."

The announcements in the other cases were received in silence until the final declaration by the speaker that Orr's seat was vacant when there was a last brief handclapping.

Solomon left the capitol shortly before the voting began. Waldman remained until the moment the roll call was started, when he went out into the lobby.

Both men said earlier in the day that they would prepare statements for publication before returning to New York.

Watched Service Men Vote
Considerable interest was manifested in the way in which the former service men voted. Twenty-one favored the expulsion of all five socialists, seven for reseatment, while four voted to oust Waldman, Claessens and Solomon and to reseat DeWitt and Orr.

The women members of the house were evenly divided, the republican member, Miss Margaret L. Smith of New York, voting to expel the entire delegation while her democratic colleague, Miss Elizabeth Van R. Gillette of Schenectady, insistently favored their retention.

Started January 7
The first chapter of the story in the expulsion of the socialists was written on January 7 last, the day on which the legislature convened for its regular 1920 session. Immediately after Speaker Sweet had been re-elected he ordered the five socialist assemblymen before the bar of the house and told them that a resolution to suspend them from participation in the business of the assembly pending an investigation of their loyalty was to be introduced and that they would

SUFFRAGE LOST IN MISSISSIPPI HOUSE LAST EVE

Attention Focused on Fight in Delaware Legislature.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, April 1.—Action of the Mississippi house of representatives in refusing to ratify the federal suffrage act focused the attention of official Washington today on the Delaware legislature, where the same question is pending.

Only one more state is needed to make the amendment effective and leaders of both republicans and democrats are watching the situation closely because of its admitted effect in the campaign this year. Chairman Fess of the republican national congressional committee, recently stated that an adverse vote in Delaware, where the republicans are in power, might cost the party the presidency and control of the senate and house.

No doubt many of these people are in distressing circumstances and immediate relief should be rendered. Will not the good citizens of Dixon, with charity for this sorely tried community, and thankfulness that we are not ourselves in such necessities, and with the Easter spirit, which should at this time prevail, give liberally for His sake, and because of the dire affliction of these people. Kindly consider this as a personal appeal to each citizen of Dixon, so that there shall be no necessity for solicitors to carry on this work. Immediate action is urgent as the appeal would indicate. Any contribution which you see fit to make will be received and promptly forwarded by Miss Eleanor Powell at the City Clerk's office in the city hall. Marshal Foch Has No Authority Over U. S. Army Occupation

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, April 1.—American troops on the Rhine are subject only to the orders of the president of the United States as commander in chief of the army, President Wilson wrote congress today in response to a resolution of inquiry adopted by the house.

The American troops and the territory they control still are governed by the terms of the armistice, the president said. He disclosed that the American government had disapproved plans to have the troops and the territory placed under the orders of the Rhineland high commission.

Field Marshal Ferdinand Foch has no authority over the American troops, the president said. Major General Allen commanding the forces, "has full authority," Mr. Wilson added, "to utilize his troops for the police of the occupied district, the preservation of order and to repel any attack which may be made upon him."

CHICAGO FACES FIREMEN STRIKE FOR HIGHER PAY

Threatens Prosecution of Strikers for "Conspiracy."

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, April 1.—Threats of prosecution for conspiracy faced city firemen today as a result of wholesale resignations as a "strike" for higher pay.

Seven hundred firemen signed resignations yesterday, union officials say, and by nightfall they expect to have similar action by 1,800 of the 2,267 city truckmen and pipe men.

John Cullerton, custodian of fire department property, notified union officials today that their action was a conspiracy. The fire marshal, Cullerton said, had authority to draft any citizen for fire service and would do so to fill the ranks.

The situation was further complicated today when representatives of the 256 fire department engineers announced their men would walk out if non-union pipemen and truckmen were employed.

Strikers Remain Out.
Striking city hall employees and other municipal workers remained out today despite passage of a budget providing pay increases of 10 per cent and the city faced a further threat of withdrawal of fire protection through wholesale resignations of city firemen.

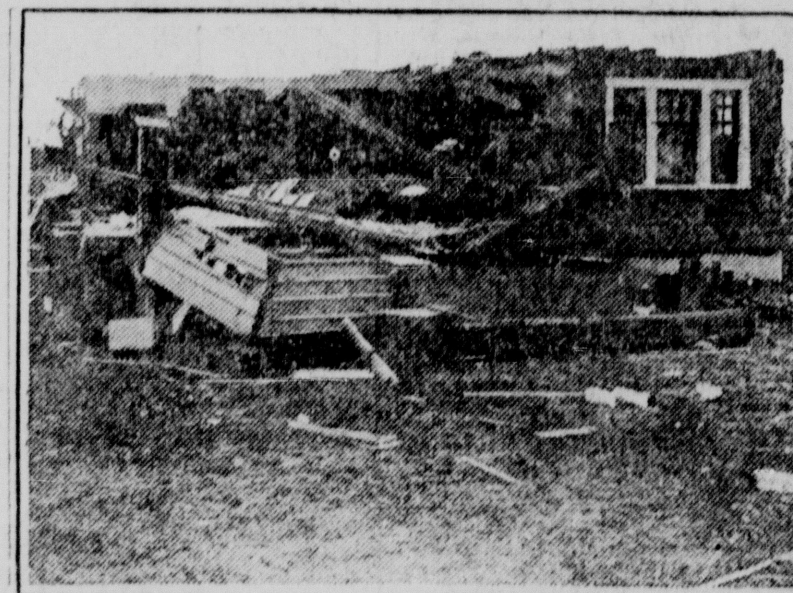

A blanket resignation effective April 7, bearing 500 names was in the hands of the firemen's committee when other members of the force met today to consider the increase of $192 voted by the city council. The firemen have presented demands for a general increase of $300 a year and leaders declared that three-fourths of their number would join in resigning unless the full demand was met.

Corn Took Upward Swing This Morn

Chicago, April 1.—Corn took a decided upward swing in price today, mainly as a result of bullish estimates regarding winter wheat. A leading expert had figured the winter wheat crop condition as the lowest for this date in more than ten years barring a single exception. Besides, his report suggested that the consequent abandonment of winter wheat would amount to the huge total of 5,000,000 acres. Opening corn prices, which ranged from 1/4 to 1 1/4 higher, with May 1.58 3/4 to 1.59 1/4 and July 1.52 1/4 to 1.54 1/4, were followed by a slight reaction and then by material fresh upturns.

Oats sympathized with corn. After opening 1/4 off to 1/2 advance, including July at 79 1/4 to 79 3/4 the market gained all around.

A continuance of the strike of Chicago stockyards employees tended to lift the provision market. Business, however, lacked volume.

Served Hot Lunch to School Pupils

A series of examinations of the work of the pupils of the eighth grade is now being conducted throughout the county. In order to facilitate the work the young people from a number of districts gather at the most central and convenient school house to write the examinations. One of the very pleasant occasions of this year's session was the examination held at the Armstrong school, district 49, where eight pupils and four teachers spent the day.

At the noon hour a most delicious menu was provided by the following ladies of the community and was brought to the school house hot from the oven: Mrs. Henry Norden, Mrs. Charles Bolbeck, Mrs. Geo. Brainer, Mrs. Frank Norden, Mrs. J. Sullivan, Mrs. Conrad Lemke, Mrs. Gilbert Renner, Mrs. Will Hopkins, Mrs. Albert Ioder. The menu which was served to the children by these ladies, consisted of the following dishes: Chicken, mashed potatoes, gravy, pickles, bread and butter, escalloped corn, boiled eggs, fruit salad, cake and coffee.

This very material manifestation of the interest of the community in the comfort of the pupils was deeply appreciated by all who were fortunate enough to be present.

Denmark's Troops Ready for Trouble

Copenhagen, April 1.—Despite reports that there were current late yesterday and last night that there appeared to be excellent prospects of a settlement of the general strike called by the Danish labor unions the Politiken today reports government preparations to put the military forces in shape for dealing with possible trouble. It likewise declares that a movement is on foot by the government to cause the occupation of the Flensburg zone by Danish military forces.

The troops in Copenhagen, the Politiken says, have been served with ball cartridges and the soldiers instructed to be prepared to use their arms against demonstrators.

ST. LUKE'S AUXILIARY—

The extra Lenten meeting that was held by the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Luke's Church last Friday was the meeting that was postponed from December 5th when the Rt. Rev. Bishop John C. Sage, of Salina, Kas., formerly rector of St. Luke's for seven years, was to have been present to tell of his missionary work in the district of Salina. Bishop Sage died suddenly on October 10th. He was much beloved in Dixon and it was through his love for St. Luke's and her people that we have our present rector. The paper read by Mrs. C. E. Chandler told of his work in Salina and it was a message that will live always in the minds and hearts of those who have known and loved him, as well as to those who may ever hear it, a beautiful, a divine message, full of hope, faith, and love.

Mrs. Herbert W. Martin then read her paper on "The Negro in this Country," giving a concise and forceful rendering of her well compiled work. Without going into full historical facts her subjects opened at the landing of the first slaves by the Dutch in Virginia, year 1716. A short and interesting phase of different periods of the progress of the race were given, including the war and reconstruction times and telling of the foundation of Tuskegee by Booker T. Washington. She also touched upon the work of other idealists of the colored people. While the race was not over-praised, full credit was given for their work and attainments.

Account of the work of the Northern states' churches and societies was given special notice. Fast monies have been spent on these to wonderful advantage, no doubt to the salvation of the South. Probably the strongest point of the subject dealt with the necessity for the whole nation to assume the important care of education of the negro from childhood by taxation. It was claimed that the government should establish a national educational fund among the states by taxation on the basis of illiteracy, the fund to be made general in its scope for both white and colored children, enforcing the education of every child. Small schools could be placed in every community within easy walking distance from groups of homes. If yellow fever and smallpox can be stamped out by the government why not illiteracy.

All education is fruitless without religion and church membership and the church's work would be as fully necessary as previously together with institutes and colleges for those requiring the higher education necessary for teaching, missionary work, and the professions. Acknowledging the great work done by churches, still it seems impossible to reach the enormous majority of the negro, the masses of the ignorant in the South, and this is the work for the nation to assume by taxation, with the influence of the church for Christianity, as what is good for the negro citizen is a benefit to the white. Make them good and valuable citizens. A single generation of this enforced educational work would mean a new American Negro race.

In making a plea for the Negro, Mrs. Martin dwelt in a few words upon the Indian, our own native, driven outside civilization, also making a plea for his enforced education.

Rosanna Dement sang very delightfully a plantation song, "Take Me Back to Ole Virginny." The meeting was then adjourned and a social hour with refreshments followed.

SOCIALISTS OUSTED FROM N. Y. ASSEMBLY AFTER LONG SESSION

be allowed their "day in court."

The resolution which then was offered by Minority Leader Adler, set forth in its preamble that the socialist party of America at its national convention in Chicago last August had declared adherence to and solidarity with the revolutionary forces of Soviet Russia; that it had endorsed the principles of the communist international at Moscow; that the constitution and by-laws of the socialist party provided that members of the dues-paying organization elected to public office might be expelled from the party if they refused to abide by the instructions of the organization and that such instructions might be given by an executive committee made up in whole or in part of aliens. The resolutions charged the socialists members with being engaged in a "large and well organized conspiracy to subvert the due administration of the law and to destroy the right to own and hold private property honestly acquired, and to overturn the whole fabric of our constitutional form of government" and charged the judiciary committee of the assembly with the duty of conducting an inquiry.

Hearing Started Jan. 20

Hearings were begun on Jan. 20, after the judiciary committee had been appointed and had organized, with Louis M. Martin, republican of Oneida, as chairman. A notable array of attorneys headed by Attorney General Charles D. Newton appeared for the state, while Morris Hillquit, Seymour Stedman, Gilbert E. Roe, S. John Block, William Karlin and Walter Nelles appeared for the suspended assemblymen.

Twenty-four days were consumed in the hearing.

Last Monday night seven members of the committee signed the majority report, which recommended the expulsion of all five socialists and the enactment of legislation designed to provide that no party which includes minors or aliens in its membership may have a position on the official ballot. Dissenting opinions recommending the expulsion of Waldman, Claessens and Solomon and the re-seating of DeWitt and Orr; and recommending that all the suspended members be restored to their seats were signed by one and five members respectively.

Largest Class of Pupils Write Exam

A class of 18 boys and girls from schools in Palmyra township and west of the river are taking the eighth grade central examinations today in this city. With the completion of their work this evening, a total of 110 pupils in Lee county schools will have written the examinations. This establishes a record for this county and the work is not half completed.

County Superintendent Miller in discussing the new record in the county this morning stated that there would be easily 110 more pupils in the county who would write the examination before the close of the period next Friday evening. In past years but two days have been necessary for the conducting of the examinations in Dixon and this year it will require three days to complete the work. The increase in numbers indicates the willingness to secure high school education and thus far no record of a failure has been found among the 110 pupils who have written the examinations. About eighty more will write the examination here after which the county superintendent will complete the work in the country schools.

ST. AGNES' MASQUERADE—
Aho, Aho—the king's messenger sounds the signal with his horn, for the royal pair and their courtiers are approaching. The evening of April 6 they will arrive and will hold their court in Rosbrook hall with the company of merry masquers who are to be guests of St. Agnes' Guild of St.
Luke's Episcopal church at the masquerade ball.

Many, forsooth, have set their hearts on obtaining one of the four prizes offered, two for the most seem-ly and beautiful costumes and two for those most calculated to affect the risibles. The king and queen will be especially elaborately dressed in imported costumes and it behooves all honor with their costumes, which should be neat and as elaborate as

After serving fish the table silver always seems to have a fishy hint. Hot water aggravates this condition and scouring powder is not the thing to use on silver.

Lemon or orange peel is a most effective agent in removing the taint of fish from metal. It can do absolutely no harm to the silver. The steel of the kitchen knives and forks is even more susceptible to fish than the harder finished and polished silver.
Lemon or orange peel will act on steel just as on silver.

Menu for Tomorrow.

BREAKFAST—Sliced bananas, cereal and cream, cinnamon toast,
coffee.

LUNCHEON—Fruit salad, brown bread and butter sandwiches, tea.

DINNER—Casserole of beef, baked potatoes, buttered beets, radishes and spring onions, lemon pie, coffee.

My Own Recipes.

The first spring onions have a de-liciousness all their own. Aside from the stimulus to our appetites, they give our jaded winter nerves evidence of spring's awakening. At that, onions do really contain properties calming to edgy nerves. The little green things aren't truly obnoxious and are too valuable a food not to be used often during the spring months.

FRUIT SALAD.

1 cup apples (in half-inch cubes.)
4 slices of pineapple.
½ cup canned peaches.
½ cup bananas.
4 teaspoons tart jam.
Juice of half 1 lemon.

Mix apples, peaches and bananas and squeeze over lemon juice. Let stand 15 minutes. Cut slices of pineapple in quarters and arrange in a circle on lettuce. Fill the center with the mixed fruit, put the jam on top of each mound and cover with the following dressing:

SALAD DRESSING FOR FRUIT.

¼ cup pineapple or peach juice.
¼ cup lemon juice.
1-3 cup sugar.
1 teaspoon flour.
1 egg.
½ teaspoon salt.
Beat egg sufficiently to blend yolk and white. Mix flour with sugar. Add to egg with lemon and fruit juice.
Cook in a double boiler, stirring constantly, till thick. Remove from heat and set in cold water to cool.

CASSEROLE OF BEEF.

1 pound round steak.
1 cup canned tomatoes.
1 carrot.
1 turnip.
2 small onions.
½ cup diced celery.
¼ cup rice.
Salt.
Pepper.
Cut steak in pieces for serving.

Season with salt and pepper and dredge with flour. Brown in bacon fat. Put in a casserole. Add tomatoes and vegetables cut in small pieces. Add rice. Pour over enough water to cover. Put on cover of casserole and cook slowly in oven for 2½ hours.

CHURCH NOTES.

METHODIST MENTION.

There was a splendid crowd at the service last evening. Miss Josephine Lietvan sang a very helpful solo. The Spiritual tides are rising. We want all of our people to deepen in their devotion to the church.

On Friday night at 7:30 the communion service will be held. This will be Good Friday. The senior choir will take charge of the music. Every Methodist family should be represented. Why not bring all the family and have part in this Holy Sacrament. The prayerful observance of this hour will greatly enrich your lives.

Do you desire to come into this church on Easter? If you have not let the pastor know of your purpose will you not do so at your earliest convenience. The church is here for the saving of the world. You want to do your part.

NOVEL CONSTRUCTION METHODS IN USE AT UNIVERSAL OATS CO.

Work Being Rushed on New Concrete Structure There.

Rapid progress is being made on the new building which is being rushed to completion for the Universal Oats company in Dementown. The building was to have been completed by today but with many setbacks and hindrances, the contractor is making all possible haste to complete the work as soon as possible. Forces of men are working through the twenty-four hours, day and night, pouring the concrete which forms the walls of the big structure.

The method of construction adopted is one that is entirely new in this vicinity. During the winter months carpenters built forms for the storage part of the building, which accommodates 36 large bins. When the cement pouring was started this spring, it was unnecessary to tear down the forms, and rebuilt, but these are "jacked" up continuously, only a little distance at a time and the pouring of the concrete proceeds without a halt.

Overhaul Entire Mill.
The mixed concrete is hoisted by means of an automatic dump and distributed to the various parts of the structure in specially constructed steel dump carts. It is very interesting to observe the workman slowly hoisting the framework, which forms a perfectly solid floor and scaffolding, as well as the forms for the holding of the concrete. The building is reinforced with heavy steel rods.

Activities have practically ceased in the main mill building and the entire plant is undergoing a general overhauling and remodeling. Machines are being torn down and their positions changed and new machines are being installed on the various floors. The building formerly owned and occupied by the Clipper Lawn Mower company and recently purchased by the Universal company, is being remodeled, and as soon as the concrete storage bins are completed, work will be started on connecting these up with the old Clipper building, the forms for the foundations of which are nearly completed. Another addition will be added to the north end of the storage bins.

Deputy Joe Miller went to St. Charles this morning with Joe Hogan who is being returned to the state school for boys.

Attorney Ralph Madden, of Mendota, transacted business in the city Wednesday.

Grenadine is Revived For New Negligee

BY CORA MOORE.

(New York's Fashion Authority.)
New York.—So many negligees and gossamers are impracticable, perishable things, that it is a satisfaction to present this one from the screen play, "Some People."

It is of—what do you think? Grenadine—the very same sort of material that our grandmothers and great-grandmothers adored for their summery best frocks. The negligee here used was imported from Japan and this particular piece has a green and gray stripe.

The negligee itself has first, two straight lengths of the material sewed up half length to form a back—then a lining of green silk is applied and the whole hung kimono-fashion, except that the fronts are hoisted a trifle and caught at the top to provide a hint of drapery. Very soft-toned green ostrich feathers around the neck add a telling effect.

SPRING--AND NEW CLOTHES

Men who are committed to the policy of good dressing concentrate on general effect. Unless the fabrics have the rich appearance; the tailoring finished to a nicety, the models trim and tasty and the patterns distinctive, the desired general effect is not produced.

Men who trade here take quality for granted--value assured. Our effort is to match the suit with their personality and taste. Our broad variety coupled with our experience enables us to do these things with almost unfailing regularity.

YOUNG MEN'S SUITS ARE READY

You'll find the outstanding feature in Spring styles are the "slender-izing" effect of the coats and the square "English" shoulders. Coats are a little longer this year, snug waisted, high chested and longer roll to lapels. The athletic figure is dominant.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT DELIVERS HIS MAIDEN SPEECH IN ASSEMBLY

Opposed Expulsion of N. Y. Assemblymen Last Evening.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Albany, N. Y., April 1.—A protest against the expulsion of the five socialist assemblymen was voiced by Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt today in his maiden speech as a member of the New York Assembly. His argument was made in the course of the debate on the question of unseating the socialist members. Col. Roosevelt conceded that the assembly, as the sole judge of the qualifications of its members, had a right to expel any one and that its determination was final.

"As this power is subject to no external control, it is doubly necessary for us to exercise it only with self-control, because the greater the power, the more dangerous the abuse."

"To expel the socialist party from our assembly we must condemn it as a conspiracy. If we so expel it, we must set about expelling all socialists from every office they held in this state and to bring the expulsion to its logical conclusion, as the right to vote in general entails the right to hold office, we must disfranchise every dues-paying member of the socialist party."

"Against the party there has been urged as the two principal charges disloyal action during the war and action or disloyalty with the intent of overthrowing our present government by force."

Didn't Approve War.

"The record shows that during the last crises neither the party nor most of its members approved of the war, nor for that matter, of any war. They confined their activities, however, to protesting against the war and to refraining from giving voluntary help to its prosecution. In no case does the record show that they violated or urged violation of any law put forward for the effective prosecution of the war. To convict the party on this charge would therefore be to convict on a belief of a state of mind."

"With regard to planning the overthrow of the government by force, in no part of the record do I consider this to have been proved. At worst, there are some ambiguous phrases and utterances. To convict on these it is necessary to assume that each and every member of the party subscribe to every tenet of the party, an unfair assumption. For who is there among us that subscribes to every tenet of his party."

"It has been definitely proved in the investigation that minors and aliens are members of the socialist party and may influence its policy and sit as members of its controlling committees. This is a most unsavory fact but should we expel the party on this account? Again, no! It is something we should correct by legislation but it is not something on which we should expel."

"We abhor the party's principles. We must not let this influence us to commit a crime against representative government. We have established no case against the socialist party."

Stop That Bark!

IT'S dangerous to fool with a cough. Don't endure what you can cure safely, surely and quickly with nature's own remedy for throat affections.

TRENT'S

You can say "good-bye" to any cough if you will use this remarkable compound of Eucalyptol, Balsam of Tolu, Squills, Senega and other vegetable extracts. Guaranteed to be absolutely free from alcohol, codeine, morphine, opium and all injurious drugs.

Ask your druggist for it now.

We must not expel these men, therefore, simply because they are members of the socialist party.

"The second but less important feature that comes up before us is the question of fitness of these men as individuals."

"Against two of them, Orr and De Witt, no case has been urged other than that they are members of the socialist party. On the other three, Waldman, Claessens and Solomon, there is testimony as to certain speeches and acts. These show no overt action, but again come under the category that tends to prove a state of mind. I do not believe we should expel on our belief of a state of mind, therefore, I say, unproven."

"In urging this verdict of non-proven, we must have it clearly understood that we in no way endorse or believe in the party or its members."

Says His Prescription Has Wonderful Influence Over Rheumatism

Discoverer Tells Druggists Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allenhu Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. All druggists has been appointed agent for Allenhu in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money to all who state they received no benefit.

HOLIDAYS

South Africa Has a Bumper Crop of 'Em Every Year.

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY,
With Smithsonian-Universal African Expedition.

Johannesburg, Transvaal. — South Africa is the land of holidays.

We are mere pikers in America with our six yearly days of rest—New Year's, Decoration Day, the Fourth, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

There are 11 holidays a year in South Africa, all set aside by act of Parliament. There are three each in May and December alone. Just take a look at this list and get jealous:

New Year's Day.
Good Friday.
Easter Monday.

Ascension Day, (May 16).
Victoria Day (May 24).
Union Day (May 31).

King's Birthday (first Monday in August).

The first Monday in October.
Dingaan's Day (Dec. 16).
Christmas Day and Boxing Day (Dec. 16).

Union Day is in celebration of the establishment of the Union of South Africa in 1910. Victoria Day is in honor of Queen Victoria. Dingaan's Day celebrates the victory of 460 Boers under Anriës Pretorius over 12,000 Zulus under Chief Dingaan in 1838. Boxing Day is the same as in England; no one knows quite how it started, but they do have boxing matches that day.

The queerest holiday is the one officially designated the "first Monday in October." It's popularly known as Weiner's Day because a Boer member of Parliament named Weiner got up one day and declared that inasmuch as "it's a long time between holidays" he proposed introducing a bill for another for "some day in October." The bill was passed.

Rhodesia goes South Africa one better. It has 12 public holidays. It hasn't got Union Day, Dingaan's Day or Weiner's Day, for Rhodesia is a protectorate and not a province of the South African Union. But it has four to make up for these three—Eas-

African Natives Have Modesty Standard Like None Other On Earth

Bareback fashion long has been popular in Africa. The man facing you is beautifying by filing his teeth; he thinks he's prettier with sharp pointed teeth.

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY.
N. E. A. Reporter with Smithsonian-Universal African Expedition.

Half naked natives of Africa have a standard of modesty and a moral code all their own.

Barotse men, the race inhabiting Northern Rhodesia and the Zambesi river country, usually wear nothing but a queer divided skirt. Though some dandies affect castoff clothes of the whites—usually E. V. D. pants and an undershirt so ragged and full of holes as to require the agility of a contortionist to get in and out of.

The divided skirt is almost knee length and makes a husky chap look like a female impersonator. The skirt is one piece of gaudy cloth wound around the loins, one end falling in front and the other in back, leaving both sides exposed. This Barotse "froek" comprises 36 yards of cloth!

Some of the Barotse were taken along to the Falls and Williamstown. Universal movie director, decided it would improve the film if some naked natives were standing on the brink of the chasm contemplating the cataract.

It took half an hour to persuade the coy chaps to do a disrobing act. They were horrified at the idea—right in front of white men! Finally they agreed, under pressure of a shilling bribe.

And when they came away, in all the respectability of their scanty skirts, they gathered long blades of grass which they used to scrape their bodies of the uncomfortable moisture—like a squeegee on a window pane! A white man would have let the water dry in the sun, but they scraped it off, grimacing and scowling as if it was a matter of grave concern.

Stranger still is the standard of modesty among the Bechuana, whom we saw at Taung and Mafeking, on the edge of the Kalahari desert. They have a curious topsy-turvy custom that it is perfectly all right for woman to disrobe completely and wade a river, carrying her clothes on her head—if only unmarried men are present. But if any married men were looking on it would be quite immodest to do this!

Native women, and men, too, of practically all tribes appear exceedingly modest and moral before white men. But decency and morality, as we know it, are utterly absent in their tribal life. However, it's also true that native African women consider it highly immoral to do things white women do.

For instance: Women of some African tribes will appear publicly in almost stark nudity but they will cringe in shame if a tiny skull cap happens to fall off the top of their heads!

ter Saturday (which with Good Friday, Easter Sunday and Easter Monday makes four in a row). Rhodes Day, Founder's Day and Shangani Day, the latter being in memory of the Matabele tribe's extermination of Major Allan Wilson and 33 men on the Shangani River, near Bulawayo, Dec. 5, 1893, during the Matabele rebellion.

And of course Wednesday and Saturday afternoon as always holidays:

NEW CONTRACT FOR HARD COAL MINERS SOUGHT

Settlement of Bituminous Wage Scale is Completed.

New York, April 1.—The new wage agreement of the bituminous mine workers disposed of, John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers today turned his attention to the negotiation of a new contract for the anthracite miners. He declared that steps would be taken to bring about "satisfactory" adjustment in the hard coal industry, without further delay.

The sub-committee of anthracite operators and miners appointed to negotiate the new contract, took up a continuation of its discussion of the comparison on the wage earnings of the bituminous and anthracite coal diggers, the operators supplying additional data.

Official copies of the bituminous wage agreement signed here by representatives of operators and miners of the central competitive states, were sent out to the various districts today. More than 100,000 mine workers will receive 27 per cent wage increase in the new contract which goes into effect today and continues for two years.

There will be no noticeable increase in production in the bituminous fields as a result of the signing of the new wage agreement, according to T. L. Lewis, secretary of the New River Coal Association of West Virginia. He said it would be practically impossible to increase the output until the mine owners were assured an "adequate car supply."

Constantinople, March 26.—Ahmed Emin Bey and Veli Bey, editors of prominent newspapers here and Souliman Nazi Bey a widely known poet, have been arrested by the British and deported to Malta. Said Pasha, Turkish commandant in Constantinople, has also been placed under arrest.

PAPA FISH HAS TO GUARD EGGS

Or Mamma Fish Would Eat Them and Then There'd Be No Fish for Anglers to Catch.

Picture shows trout eggs and baby trout, with yolk of fish egg attached for feeding purposes.

Fish eggs vary in size and form, those of the eel being visible only through a powerful microscope. The eggs of the shark and ray are deposited in a horny egg case. Those of the bull-head are spirally twisted, while those of the ray are wheel-barrow shaped with four handles.

All fish eggs contain a food yolk from which the early embryo is fed until he has grown large enough to care for himself. When this yolk or food substance is consumed the fish leaves the egg envelope and is said to be hatched. They then begin to grow and so far as known they keep on growing as long as they live. But the life of a fish is very uncertain, for he is the constantly sought victim of some larger relative of the family.

In most cases the young are cared for in various ways. The eggs of a catfish are attached to the under surface of the female. With sea horses and pipefish a pouch is formed in the skin and into it the eggs are placed and there they remain until able to care for themselves. The male sea catfish carries the eggs in his mouth to protect them from the attacks of the female. Other species put their eggs in a gravel or sand nest over which the male watches.

Salmon only spawn once in their life and that at four years of age. So far as known they all die soon afterwards.

The culture of fish has proved to be very profitable, as many as a million trout fry being secured at an outlay of $200 for eggs.

The great possibilities can be seen when it is considered that a codfish has produced 9,344,000 eggs in a single season and that the percentage of hatch and progress of growth is much greater under artificial conditions than when left to the hazards of Nature.

EXPECT SETTLEMENT OF RUHR SITUATION
IN DAY'S MEETINGS

Government's Ultimatum
Has Been Extended
48 Hours.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, April 1.—Premier Millerand today received Dr. Von Mayer, the German charge d' affaires, and discussed the situation in the Ruhr district with him. The premier reiterated the terms of his letter of yesterday dealing with the question of permission for German troops to enter the Ruhr region in which he expressed the view that military intervention in that region at present would be useless as well as dangerous.

After the departure of the charge the premier conferred with Marshal Foch respecting eventual measures to be taken in case the Germans disregarded the Ruhr decision. No apprehension is expressed, however, that anything further would result than a demonstration such as an advance of the French troops a dozen miles or so in such a contingency, which would mean the occupation of Frankfurt and Darmstadt. It is not expected, however, that this would provoke any violent manifestation on the part of the Germans.

Doubt Desirability.
There is much skepticism here, even in circles close to the government regarding the desirability of such an advance. It is pointed out that Frankfurt, Darmstadt, and in fact all the territory the occupation of which is under consideration are now commanded by French batteries and would not be more completely demoralized if French soldiers were picketing throughout the area.

The impression today appeared to be that the whole trouble would blow over without the necessity of any radical measures being taken.

OUTLOOK IS FAVORABLE.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Essen, April 1.—Decision to continue the general strike has been reached by the workmen's committee in view of the failure to reach a settlement with the government. The workmen insisted that no additional terms be inserted in the Bielefeld agreement. The government granted an extension of the armistice for 48 hours to give workmen's conference here.

General Leitner, commander-in-chief of workers' forces here, said last night the situation was clearing and there were excellent prospects for a satisfactory settlement.

EXTREMISTS HOLD TOWNS.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
The Hague, April 1.—Most of the towns in the Ruhr district are in the power of the extremists, who are forcing the workers to leave their jobs and join the red army, according to the Dutch press.

The burgomaster and the members of the majority socialist and center party at Duisburg have notified the government that the condition of the town is so bad there is no hope of the police preventing plundering and other outrages by the mob, dispatches state. Only governmental action can save the town, it is declared.

An official statement issued by the headquarters of the government troops under date of Wednesday says that at the expiration of the time limit on the government's ultimatum, the advance of government troops began on a small party of the east front.

48 HOUR EXTENSION.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, April 1.—(Havas).—The German government has granted leaders of workmen's forces in the Ruhr district a 48 hour extension of time in which to either accept or reject the terms included in the ultimatum sent to Essen late last week, according to advices received here from Berlin. Negotiations between representatives of the workers and government delegates were proceeding today.

NO GENERAL STRIKE ORDER.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Copenhagen, April 1.—The revolutionary executive strike council at Berlin, whose members belong to the extreme radical group, yesterday decided against the calling of a general strike in Germany as a result of the Ruhr valley situation, pending the result of the negotiations with the Ruhr workmen's organization at Muenster according to advices received here today. This action was taken, it was said today, owing to the attitude of the Berlin workers on the question.

BEE STING FEAR COSTS NATION
MILLIONS OF TONS OF HONEY

Even children feel at home among bees after they have made their acquaintance.

Millions of tons of delectable honey, valued in the millions of dollars, which the bee is capable of producing annually, is going to waste because the people are afraid of the bee sting. But for that fear there would probably be as many bee hives in the back yards of American homes as chicken coops.

In the state of Washington the Beekeepers' Association has launched an educational campaign designed to impress upon the people of that commonwealth the opportunities they are overlooking by refusing to negotiate with the bee. They are being told that modern methods of handling bees have done away with all danger of being stung.

Bees are a thrifty lot. They are a great foe to Bolshevism. The life of a bee is great propaganda for thrift and production and should be studied by all persons seeking subjects of true Americanism. The insects are valued in the millions of dollars, happy; they are the world's greatest producers and have a way about them of getting rid of the non-producers that makes Bolshevism among the bee family a decidedly unpopular movement.

Two colonies of bees would provide enough honey for any family and would leave some to sell.

"Eat honey and be happy" is the dominant slogan being employed in the educational campaign being waged by the beekeepers.

Kenneth Hawkins, formerly United States bee specialist, now of Watertown, Wis., declares that honey is a stimulant and produces energy and is bound to advance in consumption as a substitute for whiskey.

Hawkins points out that the first of the German prisoners captured during the forced march through Belgium all carried honey. When questioned,

German officers declared this was done to give the men more "pep."

People formerly used to whiskey wine and beer are expected to turn to honey and before long the United States may be a nation of honey eaters.

It is also contended that the scientific handling of bees in backyards will do much towards solving the high cost of living.

Its utilities are many. But note no evidence of them is revealed when the Roadster is used as a pleasure car. Every line is smart, trim and graceful. It takes but a moment to make the change.

A World Endurance Record Proves Essex Dependability

A large class of its buyers are business men. They choose it for utility and dependable transportation. It becomes, in fact, a part of their business system. It must be on the job, keep all engagements on time, and be as responsible as an engineer's watch.

These same qualities, with its rare good looks, make the Roadster unsurpassed as a smart car for pleasure.

Economy, durability and train-like regularity are the standards set by Essex. These things have been shown in the hands of more than 25,000 owners.

It was more dramatically proved on the Cincinnati speedway, when the Essex stock chassis set the world's long distance endurance record of 3,037 miles in 50 hours. The same car, in three separate tests, traveled 5,870 miles at an average speed above a mile a minute. Another stock Essex set the world's 24-hour road mark of 1,061 miles over snow-covered Iowa roads.

It is specially suited for salesmen, inspectors and others who must cover with territory, quickly and frequently. Though not large, the Essex is commodious. There is plenty of room for passengers, and special arrangements for carrying sample cases, unseen, and even a trunk if desired.

Come see the Essex Roadster. Ride in it. Try its paces. Whether you want it for business or pleasure, you will appreciate why Essex in its first year set a new world's sales record.

The Natural Beauty of Her Hair

WAS a matter of comment and in response to the question as to how she kept it in such wonderful condition she replied:

"Easy enough. I just rub a little SCALPURA on the scalp two or three times a week? That's all."

Why is Your Hair Dull and Lifeless?

The cause is generally to be found in the scalp. If the pores are clogged by dandruff, if the scalp continually itches, if the hair gets thin and faded it is a sure sign of a sluggish circulation and an unhealthy condition.

Beautiful Hair Is a Matter of Care

And therefore possible of attainment by men and women of mature years. The reason why hair becomes dull and old-looking is because the glands of the scalp have been clogged by dandruff, the circulation impeded and the hair deprived of its natural stimulus and nourishment.

SCALPURA softens and cleanses the scalp of all impurities, removes dandruff, stimulates the hair cells and restores the normal circulation of the skin. This naturally results in healthy lustrous hair.

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED--AND EARNED

GERRY GROWS FIDGETTY.
CHAPTER 100.
Now that flat was in order, all so clean in its coat of new paint, there was very little for me to do. Time began to hang heavily on my hands. I fretted at the inaction--inwardly of course. I developed nerves, the kind that won't let one sit still, but drive aimlessly from one thing to another. "Do let us go somewhere!" I said rather impatiently one night, after Robert had ensconced himself in an easy chair with his pipe. "This is the nicest place to go I know of," he said, settling down a little lower in the chair. "That's all right for you to say! You aren't here all day as I am. I feel as if I should fly if I don't get out." "I guess I have been a bit selfish, Gerry. Forgive me, dear. I have been so happy to come home to this, that I hadn't realized it was stay at home for you. Where shall we go?" "Oh, for a walk, the movies, Mary's--anywhere so I can get rid of this nervousness." "Suppose we walk up toward Murphy's. Then if you get tired we can take a car. Perhaps the walk will do you good--it's a lovely night." Robert's face was very serious. "I walked so fast he called 'Whoa!' once or twice. It seemed almost as if running would make me feel better. "It's pretty lonesome there alone all day after being in the shop so long, isn't it, Gerry?" "If I had more to do--I try to read, but I can't seem to keep my mind on anything very long. I could sew, but we don't really need anything more, and I hate to spend the money." "You must get out more. Visit the girls during the day." "I might," I thought, "but occasionally. Someway, Robert, I have never thought of that. I never have been able to go places in the daytime. It never occurred to me, that now I might. Then, because he seemed worried, I added: "Don't fret over me, Robert. I have a fit of nerves, that's all."

thread." For half an hour we chatted, while I ripped, bent, pinned. Then after trying the effect of what I had done on June, I threaded the needle and made my work permanent. "How do you like it now Carson?" Jane went back to the boys. I followed in her wake. "That's something like, Gerry! It was an awful failure before." Then, "Mary should be here--she would say the fairies had been to work again." "Oh, Gerry has something in the ends of her fingers the rest of us lack. Everything she touches, turns out well. I am so grateful, Gerry, I couldn't afford not to wear it, and yet I fairly hated myself every time I put it on." "Better collect before you go," Carson teased. "We may not be good pay. PRAGUE FEARS TYPHUS GREAT NEED IS SOAP

All Available Fat Has Been Used for Food in City.

BY ZOE BECKLEY.
(N. E. A. Special Cable.)
Prague, March 19.--For lack of soap thousands of children will die here in the spring.

"We have used our fat for food," said Alice Masaryk, daughter of the president of the Czech republic and Red Cross head, today. "Unless America sends us soap or fat to make it from, our children will perish when typhus comes with the warmer weather."

Babies Die of Filth.
There is not enough soap to wash the linen in the hospitals. Babies die here every day from simple lack of cleanliness. Pestilence and dirt go hand in hand. The great typhus carrier is the louse and soap is indispensable in delousing work.

The funds America has sent here are now being used to buy food and soap. Both are essential, but the Red Cross workers say that of the two the soap is the more important. There are 500 children in one hospital alone who will die of tuberculosis unless they can be removed to clean surroundings at once.
